

Eda's news

EduArt Nurseries and Preschools Newsletter
3/2023

Dear parents, dear friends,

I'm glad you're reading the new edition of our NEWSLETTER. As always, you can read about the interesting events we're planning for your children at each EduArt kindergarten.

Today, I would like to introduce you to a new product that we have prepared for your children at EduArt. In each of our kindergartens, the teachers have prepared a TRAVELING SUITCASE. This is an original, methodical aid that contains books, worksheets, games, creative tasks, and much more for the children. Each briefcase covers a certain theme. With these briefcases, the children will work on them as part of their project days, and additionally as afternoon activities.

The wonderful thing about these briefcases is that they can travel between our branches, thus, all the children at EduArt kindergartens will get the opportunity to experience this fun project. This project helps to build cooperation between our schools and teachers, as well as contributes to the spread of good ideas and sharing. After all, there are never enough good ideas!

See you at our EduArt kindergartens!

WEEKLY THEMES

- "What blooms here, shines, flies"
- Our spring flowers
- Animals and their young
- Animals from afar

In March, we will say goodbye to winter and welcome in the spring season. We are very excited for the spring season with the children. We will be exploring another season and observing the changes that gradually occur in nature. A traveling suitcase from our branch at Prague 9 called, "Waterdrop Ája," will arrive to our kindergarten, where we will explore the water cycle together. We will also introduce the children to our next book, What's Blooming, Shining, and Flying Here, by Jiří Havel, which is full of beautiful verses. We will practice our hearing with the children and play with rhymes this month. We will go on trips to new libraries, where we will choose new books to borrow for our kindergarten.

In the second week, we will go outside in nature to observe the changes that are occurring as this new season emerges. If the weather allows it, we will spend most of our time outside. Together, we will visit the Botanical Garden, where we will surely find the first spring flowers. We will also grow flowers typical for spring in our kindergarten. We will remind ourselves of everything flowers need to live and how they grow. Last but not least, we will remember what nature has to offer us.

The third week will include a trip to the Milíčov Zoopark, where we'll see mostly farm animals that we'll learn about throughout the week. Will we be able to recognize all the animals on the farm? And will we be able to name their cubs? We will also discuss why farms and agriculture are important to us, as well as what animals give us and need from us.

The end of the month will be dedicated to animals that we cannot see roaming freely in the Czech Republic. We will discuss what a zoo is, how it works, and why we have them in cities. We will become acquainted with exotic animals and plan our trip to the zoo together. With the children, we will create our own zoo, which we will use as a tool to develop cooperation, logical and spatial perception.

March in Libuš Kindergarten

WEEKLY THEMES

- Human Body and Health
- Our Emotions
- About the Ugly Duckling
- Spring is Here

EVENT CALENDAR

- 3.3. Trouble with the Monster - Interactive Program
- 9.3. Individual Speech Therapy
- 10.3. March - Our rabbit Ouško has Birthday
- 13.3. March - Traveling Suitcase - Green Class
- 14.3. Traveling Suitcase - Yellow Class
- 15.3. Alzheimer Home Visit
- 23.3. Feeding the Ducks
- 23.3. Individual Speech Therapy
- 24.3. Fairy Tale Night (About the Hen and the Rooster)
- 29.3. Toulcův Dvůr - Farm with Domestic Animals

In the first week of March, we will explore the theme of the human body and health. Together, we will learn and observe what our body looks like from the outside and inside. Additionally, we will find out what the individual parts and organs of the body are for. We will also not forget to mention the topic of health and its impact on our physical and mental functioning. On Friday, we will celebrate the 2nd birthday of our animal friend, Ouško.

The second week of March will be focused on our emotions. We will get to know them together with the help of the Traveling Suitcase from Prague 2, which is focused on this topic. Both the Yellow and Green classes can look forward to project days, where we will list basic emotions and learn about their physical and mental expressions. The Green class will once again visit the seniors at the Alzheimer Home in Modřany, and thus, we will remind ourselves of the importance of prosocial behavior.

In the third week of March, we will head towards another fairytale. This time, we will read and explore the story of The Ugly Duckling. We will read the fairy tale, dramatize it, and try to put its plot together. Together with the children, we will discover the message of this story, which is to not judge others only by their appearance. In addition to this, we will go to feed the ducks at the pond.

In the last week of March, we will welcome the new season together. Spring is here, and we will focus on the changes in nature that it brings. We will talk about spring weather and what is typical for this season. We will take a closer look at the life of trees, flowers, animals, and birds that are awakening from winter hibernation. We will go to Toulcův dvůr to see the first spring baby animals.

March in Hloubětín Kindergarten

We are slowly saying goodbye to winter and looking forward to the first, long-awaited spring greetings. In March, we are looking forward to the Traveling Suitcase with Cactus Man and his story, which will come to us from the Libuš branch. We will focus on it during our project days. To add variety to our activities, we will have the IT tool Owl available for the whole month.

In the first week of March, Eda will introduce us to the new book What Blooms, Shines, and Flies by Jiří Havel. This book will guide us throughout the entire month. We will observe the awakening of nature and the signs of the beginning of spring.

In the second week, we will get to know spring flowers. We will learn how a flower grows, what it needs to live, and try to grow one from a seed. We will visit our familiar retirement home, where we will try to call spring and a sunny mood with a song.

In the third week, we will focus on farm animals. We will look at their lives and offspring, talk about how individual animals can serve us, and how they are useful. We will take a trip to the Botanical Garden, where we will participate in the programs, "Tree, Little Tree, and Sapling" and "Herbs from Grandma's Garden." We can also look forward to the Puk Theater with the play, "Hello, Little John!" by Daisy Mrázková.

In the last week of March, we will look for animals in different corners of the world that we cannot find in our free nature in the Czech Republic. This will bring us to the topic of zoos, where we will not only discuss the zoo, but we will also have a visit from the Zoo School, including their great helpers, the meerkats.

March in Vinohrady Nursery

The arrival of the month of March is an unmistakable sign of the end of winter and the beginning of the much-anticipated spring. In the first week of March, we will focus on the theme of "Colorful Thursday" on the 9th, where we will come to the nursery dressed in purple and pink. We will learn about the things in our surroundings that are typically purple and pink, and of course incorporate them into our creations and activities.

We will also have a project week on the theme of "Our Spring Flowers," where we will learn about and distinguish the different types of flowers there are. We will learn about their properties and significance in nature. Additionally, we have also prepared flower painting, collage-making, and clay modeling. We look forward to exploring the beautiful world of spring flowers with your children.

Animals, as well as their offspring, are a fascinating subject for children. In the third week of March, we will discover the fascinating world of fauna. We will learn about the different species of animals and their offspring. We will also learn about how animals care for their young and the specific diets that each species requires. There will be plenty of creative activities related to this theme.

In the fourth week of March, the children will embark on a journey to discover exotic animals and learn about creatures that are not commonly seen in our region. We will explore where they live, what they eat, how they move, and how they adapt to their surroundings. We believe that the theme of exotic animals will awaken the children's curiosity and interest in nature. This week, we will also prepare for an Easter meeting with the children and parents. We will have creative workshops, egg coloring, and finally, a visit from real animals right at the nursery!

EVENT CALENDAR

- 9.3. Color Day - Purple and Pink
- 28.3. Zoo Prak Zájezd - Red Class
- 29.3. Easter - A joint event for children and parents at the nursery

WEEKLY THEMES

- Colorful week - purple and pink
